

Grow Your Own Coaches

New! The Team Leader as Coach programme – for the food sector

Commencing: May 2011

Location: Lincolnshire/Cambridgeshire

Leading to ILM Qualification:

Level 3 Award in Workplace Coaching

Who is it for?

Team leaders and first time managers. Many managers and team leaders have the required technical skills and are gradually learning how to manage – but there is a great opportunity for them to raise their team's performance through the application of proven performance coaching methods.

What is it about?

The Team Leader as Coach Course, leading to a Level 3 Award in coaching is a nationally recognised qualification accredited by the Institute of Leadership and Management. The course is being held by Peterborough-based training company Your Total Coach.

Held over four days, the course takes team leaders / managers through the industry-recognised three-step approach to developing effective workplace coaching skills:

STEP 1 Understand what coaching is; how it can be used to boost performance and the skills required.

STEP 2 Learn how to organise effective coaching in the workplace.

STEP 3 Apply coaching through 1:1 coaching sessions that can, incredibly, last for just a few minutes.
